

League For Innovation in the Community Colleges: Innovation Stream (iStream)

“The Innovation Stream (iStream) is the League's online resource bank and learning community. As a subscriber, you have access to a powerful web-based resource that houses a variety of content.

You can use iStream as a professional development tool for faculty, staff, and administrators. The publications and presentations available through iStream provide a wealth of information and ideas for college leaders, managers, staff, and faculty. You also have access to LENSs, an outstanding professional development program designed by and for faculty.”

As League Board members, all Maricopa faculty and staff have access to these resources for free. Besides all of the League publications, you have access to all of their conference presentations, League radio broadcasts, the innovation database, LENSs curriculum materials, and in the future, you will be able to view live streams of League events. Although the project has just begun, this site already has an extensive list of resources for educators.

Access to iStream for Your College

Access to iStream is based on your e-mail address. All Maricopa faculty and staff can simply visit the iStream site, and follow the Click to login link from:

<http://www.league.org/istream>

Enter your email address in the log in screen, select a password, and then click New User. The iStream system will email a confirmation message to you with a web site link that you must click to confirm the account.

Once your account is created, you can log in directly from the web site above.

Most computers will have the necessary software for viewing iStream content. Viewing the iStream audio and video will require that your computer is equipped with Windows Media Player, available for both Apple and Windows-based computers. The electronic publications require either the free Adobe Acrobat Reader or the Macromedia Flash Player: Contact your computer help desk with questions on these software programs.

If you have any other questions, contact Alan Levine at MCLI who our Maricopa iStream representative to the League.
