Background

Deepika Shrestha Ross joined Perkins & Will in 1984, and has practiced in the United States and Europe. Experienced in projects for corporate, education, hospitality and healthcare clients, Ms. Ross brings a global, multi-cultural perspective to each of her assignments.

Education and life long learning has been one of Ms. Ross' passionate interests for many years, and the desire to create thoughtfully designed environments that reflect and support the best in traditional and progressive approaches to learning has guided all her endeavors.

Involved in every phase of the design process, Ms. Ross' collaborative style and clear direct communication skills enable her to lead client groups through complex decision-making processes to reach consensus.

Committed to achieving project goals through design excellence, she strives to create enduring works of architecture that address, synthesize, and transform issues of culture, community and context to ultimately embody the unique goals and aspirations of each individual client.
